

BEHIND IN WORLD RACE.

Matsui, at San Francisco, Believes
Araki Will Beat Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8 (AP).—
Huuki Matsui, Tokio newspaper man, arrived here today on a race around the world to Japan. A week behind his schedule, he said he believed he had lost the race to his countryman, Toichiro Araki, who passed through San Francisco several weeks ago traveling from west to east. Araki is now in Siberia.

Matsui will sail for Japan tomorrow aboard the liner Tenyo Maru.
